

Visit the House of Trembling Madness

There's one pub in Yorkshire's that's just that little bit more unique than all the rest. If you've ever visited York, then you know it's full of little treats, and one for the beer lovers is The House of Trembling Madness, York's finest little cave for those looking for a pint with a difference.

It has an extensive array of craft beers and real ales from around the world, with a special focus on Belgium's finest producers. But that's not all – you can buy them to take away, or enjoy them in their pub which is lined with stuffed animal heads and absolutely defines the word quirky. They also have a menu of proper Yorkshire classics, from the Ploughman's to pie and mash, so you can soak up the booze to make room for a few more.

The House of Trembling Madness, 48 Stonegate, York, North Yorkshire, YO1 8AS.